

FEED YOUR NEED FOR PROTECTION.

GLOVES & CLOTHING FOR THE FOOD INDUSTRY

Ansell

We protect your workers and your bottom line.

Throughout the food service industry, food-borne pathogens, high heat, sub-zero temperatures, extreme contamination risks, grease, steam, razor-sharp edges, and harsh cleaning solutions are commonplace. That's why operators look to Ansell to help protect their workers as well as their businesses. We offer a wide range of food service protective products such as gloves, aprons, sleeves, bouffant caps, beard covers, etc. All these protective products were developed to maximize the efficiency of your entire food service or food processing operation—from preparation and serving to cleanup and maintenance.

We maintain rigorous quality control standards, and only the highest-grade, most technologically advanced materials go into our products. Special attention is given to those products expected to be in direct food contact, and all products intended for food contact meet FDA standards for food contact use. Plus, only Ansell backs its products with the kind of ongoing research and development that guarantees consistent performance on the job.

When it comes to protective products for the food service industry, Ansell offers you more. More value. More product knowledge. And more peace of mind.

CUT-RESISTANT PRODUCTS
